

Industrial Visit

Mechanical Engineering

Semester-V

Visits provide students with a distinctive opportunity to acquire firsthand knowledge of diverse industries and the intricate processes involved in functions such as Designing, Manufacturing, Quality Control, and Testing. These functions serve as the foundation of industrial operations, and comprehending them is crucial for aspiring engineers. Through active participation in technical visits, students can transcend the limitations of traditional classroom lectures and gain practical insights that are invaluable for their future careers.

